STRIKE RIOTING IN CHICAGO; 15,000 MORE MEN MAY QUIT WORK AT ONCE. ABATTOIRS RUSHED TO SAVE FAMINE

SCENES AT THE BRIGHTON SLAUGHTER HOUSES.

STRIKE BREAKERS FROM BRIGHTON OFF TO CHICAGO TO FILL PLACES.

Local No. 397, will hold a meeting at No. 114 Canal street to discuss important business. The organization, although new, is a strong one. It is not thought that a local strike will be ordered.

From Springfield comes the information that the strike and the consequent high prices of meat are likely to revive the shadowed industry of cattle raising in the West.

Three promises to be a cut of 25 per cent. in the price today at Buffalo between wholesale buyers of live stock. The yards there, it is reported, are overstocked.

MORE STRIKE RIOTS FEARED IN CHICAGO

Special to the Boston American.
CHICAGO, July 18.—The feeling in the meat strike has reached a dangerous point of intensity. Further riots are feared and the police have taken every effort to provide for such an emergency. Over 1,000 men part in the trouble yesterday, in which one policeman, two white men and four negroes were badly hurt.

One of the white men, Thomas Kelly, was stabbed over the heart and may die. The negroes had been employed as strike breakers, and when passing on their way home, some one cried "nab," and then the fight began.

Import More Negroes.
Under heavy guard were taken to the head-quarters of the strike breakers in the Union Stock Yards. Armour & Company and their allies to carry out the plan of re-claiming the killing and dressing of beef stock. The packers are prepared to defend the slaughterhouse with the force of all the city.

Prices to Go Up.
Prices of meat will be at the highest in a few days and then will decline until they come to normal. In two days. This is the prediction of the packers.

The retail dealers today are expected to advance the rate for steaks, beef and pork. The butchers are expected to advance the price of beef and pork. The packers are expected to advance the price of beef and pork.

No Settlement in Sight.
There is nothing in sight to indicate a settlement. Over 15,000 of the workmen allied with the strikers are likely to join the strike. The packers say that they will not concede to the strikers' position, which is that they will not renege the men who have been employed as strike breakers.

Stocks Held at the Yards.
The stock held at the yards was expected to be used for the strike. The packers are expected to use the stock for the strike. The packers are expected to use the stock for the strike.

WOMAN AT VESPERS IS FATALLY STRICKEN
MAYNARD, July 18.—A woman's remains were discovered yesterday at St. Bridget's Church, as Miss Anna Duggan, twenty-two years of age, fell from the top of the door, a victim of the excessive heat and an attack of heart failure. She died in five minutes without regaining consciousness. Her mother, who was with her, was prostrated.

CATTLE RAISING IN N. E. MAY BE REVIVED
Special to the Boston American.
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 18.—A revival of the abandoned cattle raising industry of New England may result from the beef shortage. Until comparatively recent years, the English pasture and the best beef in our consumption and for export.

BOSTON NEED NOT FEAR A MEAT FAMINE

Vegetables and Fish Enough at Her Door to Make Hardship Impossible.

If the strike in the western packers' houses lasts long enough to put most out of the question as a diet for the mass of the population it will not mean famine in Boston, according to vegetable growers who believe that mankind can live on much less than meat. They should not be so sure, however, that the people in the city would have a chance to secure the food of the people, which the people in the city would have a chance to secure the food of the people, which the people in the city would have a chance to secure the food of the people.

STRIKE MAY CLOSE FALL RIVER MILLS

demonstrations of hostility toward the mill owners, yet there is apparent no direct threat of treatment against the strike, which it is contended, is unnecessary at this time.

The date is being made by the mill operators that of the present time there is a possibility of a strike in the future, but the only reason why the mill owners are not to be made in the fact that the greater profits can be made later in the season when the price of mill products will reach a higher figure on the export markets.

Situation is Strained.
While the labor unions are trying to get just the happening trouble, the mill owners are going steadily ahead with their plans for curtailment.

The fact that the past week closed with a good demand for mill products on a basis of three cents for regular, which is considered the low water mark, has caused much dissatisfaction among the employees who today stand ready to return to their work.

The employers declare, on the other hand, that it is necessary to close the mill temporarily, in order that the machinery may be gone over, and the machinery may be gone over, and the machinery may be gone over.

SON OF JAP NOBLEMAN MISSING FROM BOSTON

MYSTERY IN CASE OF HYDESABURO OHASHI, A HARVARD GRADUATE.

The prolonged absence of Hydesaburo Ohashi, son of a Japanese nobleman and a graduate of Harvard, who left Boston four months ago to lecture in Canada, is causing some alarm among his friends in the Japanese colony and among Harvard's faculty, some of whom have heard a word from him since his departure.

Vegetables in Quantity.
Immense quantities of vegetables are grown in the environs of Boston. To reach this article with the sun and go to Quincy market, the largest and best-known market of its kind in all America. North and South Market streets are filled, and the city is supplied with a great variety of vegetables. The city is supplied with a great variety of vegetables.
